

Effectively Fighting Internet Fraud

The Internet provides ease of shopping convenience; also allowing a wide variety of Internet scams and scam professionals the opportunity to defraud you of your money and your time; making promises for fake retail purchases, non-existent visa applications, promises of non-existent African fortunes, and hundreds of other too-good-to-be-true scenarios.

One of the frequent Internet scams being perpetrated to unsuspecting Internet shoppers are the pet and puppy scammers working from a variety of African countries.

Legitimate pet shippers, such as us here at Air Animal and others, are victims of these scam artists as well through business identify theft and misrepresentation.

It's important for you to know there are ways to fight back effectively. These include:

- Reporting the crime to all relevant authorities.
- Reporting the puppy scam fraud to give it maximum visibility.
- Encouraging the victims to report their losses as well.
- Protecting websites and the site's content.
- Helping us help you to be better consumers.
